

The Year in Pictures 2019

The New York Times

NEW YORK, JAN. 5

No shirt, no problem for Gary Atlas in Brooklyn, running on the Coney Island boardwalk on a day when the high temperature was 16 degrees.

Todd Heisler/The New York Times

NEAR FURNES, NORWAY, JAN. 13

The cross-country skier Oddvar Bra, who became a legend in Norway for tying for first despite breaking a pole during the 1982 world championships.

Andrew Testa for The New York Times

RHODE ISLAND, JAN. 10

Mother and daughter. The woman struggled with opioid addiction before and during her pregnancy.

Alec Soth/Magnum, for The New York Times

KAKUMA, KENYA, FEB. 5

In a continuing drought, a woman waited her turn at a water distribution point. The region has become measurably drier and hotter because of climate change.

Joao Silva/The New York Times

PYEONGCHANG, SOUTH
KOREA, FEB. 18

Oleksandr Abramenko of Ukraine in midair. He won the Olympic gold medal in the freestyle skiing aerials competition.

Doug Mills/The New York Times

PYEONGCHANG, SOUTH
KOREA, FEB. 10

Miu Suzuki competing with Ryuichi Kihara of Japan in pairs figure skating at the Winter Olympics.

Chang W. Lee/The New York Times

KOBANI, SYRIA, FEB. 5 Residents gathered to honor a militia fighter killed in the Syrian civil war. Veneration of the dead has become an effective tool for recruiting soldiers.

Mauricio Lima for The New York Times

ULAN BATOR, MONGOLIA, FEB. 22 Smoke rising in the world's coldest capital, which also has the highest recorded levels of air pollution. Many there burn coal to stay warm.

Bryan Denton for The New York Times

YOLA, NIGERIA, MARCH 4 Deborah, who was kidnapped and held by Boko Haram.

Adam Ferguson for The New York Times

CAROÇAL RIO DAS TROPAS, BRAZIL, MARCH 28

Members of the Munduruku tribe sorting fruit. Brazil's newly elected president favors abolishing protections for indigenous lands.

Meridith Kohut for The New York Times

DHUNGANI, NEPAL,

MARCH 2

Kusum Thapa, 17, doing her schoolwork in a chhaupadi hut. In areas of Nepal, women and girls are banished to such huts when they are menstruating.

Tara Todras-Whitehill for The New York Times

BAALBEK, LEBANON, MAY

1

Supporters of Hezbollah watched a televised speech by Hassan Nasrallah, the group's leader, urging them to participate in forthcoming elections.

Diego Ibarra Sanchez for The New York Times

PITTSBURGH, OCT. 31

The grave of Rose Mallinger, who was killed at the Tree of Life synagogue. She was 97.

Hilary Swift for The New York Times

DRAKETOWN, GA., APRIL 21

Members of the National Socialist Movement, one of the larger neo-Nazi groups in the United States, burned a swastika after a rally in a nearby town.

Mark Peterson/Redux

NEAR MURPHYSBORO, ILL., OCT. 27 President Trump at a rally to support a congressional candidate at Southern Illinois Airport. Earlier that day, 11 people were fatally shot at a Pittsburgh synagogue.

Doug Mills/The New York Times

LA MALBAIE, QUEBEC,
JUNE 9

Chancellor Angela Merkel of Germany speaks with President Trump at the G-7 meeting of world leaders.

Jesco Denzel/German Federal Government, via Associated Press

SINGAPORE, JUNE 12
North Korea's leader, Kim Jong-un, and President Trump during their meeting on the resort island of Sentosa.

Doug Mills/The New York Times

WASHINGTON, MARCH 20

In the Oval Office, from left, John Kelly, the White House chief of staff; Gary Cohn, the chief economic adviser; and Jared Kushner, senior adviser, with Saudi officials during a meeting between President Trump and Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman.

Doug Mills/The New York Times

WASHINGTON, FEB. 21 President Trump held notes during a White House meeting with people who had survived or had family members killed in school shootings.

Tom Brenner/The New York Times

DEC. 11, WASHINGTON President Trump and Vice President Mike Pence meeting with Nancy Pelosi, the presumptive incoming speaker, and Chuck Schumer, the Senate minority leader, in the Oval Office.

Doug Mills/The New York Times

RIYADH, SAUDI ARABIA,
JUNE 24

Rebel rebel: Hours before the nation's ban on women's driving was officially lifted, Hessah Alajaji went for a spin to get some dinner.

Tasneem Alsultan for The New York Times

MCALLEN, TEX., JUNE 12
A 2-year-old Honduran girl cried as her mother was searched near the United States-Mexico border.

John Moore/Getty Images

NEW YORK, JULY 19

Children thought to be migrants taken from their parents played soccer near a West Harlem child welfare agency.

Dave Sanders for The New York Times

PACARAIMA, BRAZIL,
MARCH 19

Two brothers at a refugee camp near the Venezuelan border. Tens of thousands of Venezuelans have sought refuge in Brazil in recent years.

Federico Rios Escobar for The New York Times

NEAR MCALLEN, TEX.,
OCT. 3

A Border Patrol agent engaged in a chase at the Mexican border.

Lynsey Addario for The New York Times

TIJUANA, MEXICO, APRIL 24

Young Central Americans heading to a shelter on Day 31 of their journey across Mexico to the United States border.

Meghan Dhalliwal for The New York Times

ROADE, ENGLAND, JUNE 21 Watching horse racing — it was Ladies' Day at the Royal Ascot race meeting — at the local bowls club.

Laetitia Vancon for The New York Times

NEW YORK, JULY 29

Everyone, including the birds, vied for space on the beach at Coney Island.

Daniel Arnold for The New York Times

NEW YORK, NOV. 14

Viewing David Hockney's "Portrait of an Artist (Pool With Two Figures)" at Christie's, where it fetched a record price for a work by a living artist.

Karsten Moran for The New York Times

WINDSOR, ENGLAND, MAY 19

A new era: Meghan Markle walked herself down the aisle to marry Prince Harry at Windsor Castle.

Danny Lawson/Agence France-Presse — Getty Images